Coaching for Counsellors

Live online version commences 15 March 2019

A training course specifically for counsellors, psychotherapists and professionals who use counselling skills.

- Could your clients benefit from a coaching approach?
- Did you know that as a practitioner of counselling skills, you already have many of the skills which coaches use?

Life coaching and business coaching are increasingly used for personal and professional development, and this is a service you could provide. Coaching skills help clients set goals, take responsibility for their actions and move forward in a more focussed way.

How does live online skills training work?

Our Head of Training, Rachel Weiss explains live online skills training in this short article.

What will you gain from this course?

- You will become familiar with the International Coach Federation (ICF) Core Coaching Competencies
- You will have practised the TGROW coaching model and one other current coaching model
- You will have considered how to integrate coaching into your counselling practice
- You will understand some of the differences and similarities between coaching and counselling

Participation in this course allows you to progress directly to Day 2 of Rowan's ILM Level 3 Award in Coaching, ILM Level 3 Certificate in Coaching or ILM Level 5 Certificate in Coaching and Mentoring.

Who would benefit from this course?

- Practising counsellors who want to integrate coaching skills into their existing practice, especially towards the end as clients become more robust
- Professionals using counselling skills as part of their role, and who have gained at least a Certificate in Counselling Skills
