COSCA Counselling Skills Certificate

This certificate can improve your listening and communication skills, and help you to find out more about others and yourself. The full certificate consists of 4 x 30 hour modules. Although you can attend Module One as a standalone course, successful completion of all four modules will result in a certificate being issued by COSCA.

About the Counselling Skills course

- It involves practical and enjoyable exercises
- It is delivered by qualified, practising counsellors, who are also COSCA accredited trainers
- Rowan are validated by COSCA to deliver all four modules of the certificate which is credit rated by Edinburgh Napier University. Completion of the COSCA Counselling Skills Certificate carries 40 credits at SCQF Level 8.

How could you or your staff benefit from the certificate?

You will be introduced to many useful skills, including:

- supporting others by developing practical listening skills
- increasing your self-awareness
- communicating more clearly with others

Within an organisation, these skills can greatly enhance the working environment and promote better communication – essential for success.
