

COSCA (Counselling & Psychotherapy in Scotland)

Recognition Scheme for Organisations
Standards Event

Thursday 16th August 2018 2 pm - 4 pm
Volunteer Scotland, Jubilee House, Forthside Way, Stirling FK8 1QZ

Registration, along with tea and coffee, will be available
from 13:30

Creating Ethical Counselling Organisations: How does an organisation's structure affect its ethical considerations? What are the strengths and weaknesses of different structures or organisation; large, small, multidisciplinary or specialist and how do organisations work within these structures to provide safe and ethical environments for their clients and service users?

About the event

This year's event is focusing on the ethical considerations surrounding the structure of an organisation. At a time when more services are taking on a multidisciplinary approach or partnering with other organisations, is bigger better or just different? How do organisations make the most of their funding to provide the best service to their clients while continuing to be an ethical recruiter? Does the size of an organisation change how it deals with ethics and complaints? What new challenges are presented when offering multiple services or partnering with other organisations?

COSCA (Counselling & Psychotherapy in Scotland)
16 Melville Terrace | Stirling | FK8 2NE
jenna@cosca.org.uk
cosca.org.uk
01786 475140

COSCA (Counselling & Psychotherapy in Scotland)

Recognition Scheme for Organisations
Standards Event

Thursday 16th August 2018 2 pm - 4 pm
Volunteer Scotland, Jubilee House, Forthside Way, Stirling FK8 1QZ

Registration, along with tea and coffee, will be available
from 13:30

The event will offer:

- Presentations from keynote speakers drawing on their own experiences of organisational structure and how that affects their ethical considerations.
- Exploration of the issues and benefits of different sizes and varying specialisations of organisations.
- An opportunity to discuss, share and learn from the experiences of others where organisational structure has led to challenges or opportunities.
- Focus and clarification on relevant legislation and ethical implications on running different types and sizes of organisation.

Please complete and return the attached booking form, along with the appropriate booking fee, no later than Thursday 27th July to secure your place.

COSCA (Counselling & Psychotherapy in Scotland)
16 Melville Terrace | Stirling | FK8 2NE
jenna@cosca.org.uk
cosca.org.uk
01786 475140

Charity Registered in Scotland No. SC018887
Charitable Company Limited by Guarantee Registered in Scotland No. 142360

COSCA 7th Annual Recognition Scheme Standards Event

‘Creating Ethical Counselling Organisations: how does an organisation’s structure affect its ethical considerations?’

Thursday 16th August 2018

Volunteer Scotland, Jubilee House
Forthside Way FK8 1QZ

Name
Organisation (if appropriate)
Email
Telephone No.
Do you have any dietary requirements?
Do you have any access requirements?

Cost:

COSCA Recognised Organisation £20.00

COSCA Organisational Member £25.00

Non-COSCA Organisation £30.00

I will pay direct to the bank:

Bank: Clydesdale Bank PLC

Date paid: _____

Sort Code: 82 68 05; Account No. 70174110

Cheque enclosed:

Please Invoice (add £2 service charge). (please tick, if invoice required)

Please note that no refunds can be made in the event of cancellation by you.

Closing date for booking forms is Thursday 27/07/2018.

Nominal Code	2
Payment	