

Join our team!

BRIGHT LIGHT relationship counselling

Remote Counselling working opportunity

Home Based, living anywhere in Scotland, delivering individual and couple relationship counselling via Zoom and/or phone.

Bright Light continues to grow to meet the ever increasing demands on our service, Covid-19 has significantly increased the number of people seeking our help and we need to be able to offer therapeutic support as quickly as we can. To do this we want to recruit more self-employed qualified counsellors and intake workers to start as soon as possible.

In particular we are looking for relationship counsellors but we would like to hear from you if you have additional areas of speciality. You will be paid as a self-employed sessional counsellor and receive increments for working evenings and weekends. In return you will have access to full admin support including managing all client appointments, group supervision, access to our and RS CPD programmes, clinical support from our Counselling Practice Manager, and regular video group counsellor meetings.

Interested? Please email Julie with any queries, or send your CV to julie@bright-light.org.uk

Bright Light Relationship Counselling has been providing professional counselling for over 73 years. Our counselling is non-judgemental, our charity is committed to and promotes diversity and equality. We strive to deliver a high quality safe confidential professional service for all our clients, are COSCA registered/accredited and proud to be a member of the Scotland-wide Relationships Scotland network.

Bright Light, 9A Dundas Street, Edinburgh EH3 6QG | www.bright-light.org.uk | 0131 556 1527